

Your Future

Newsletter of the Boston Partnership for Older Adults

November 2005

Boston Partnership for Older Adults Newsletter Summer 2006

- Liz Walker Headlines at BPOA Listening and Learning Session
- BPOA and Mission Hill Main Streets Announce Boston's Elder Friendly Business Certification Program
- What Happens When Cops Become Film Makers, Teens Become Script Writers, and Elders Do the Acting?
- BPOA Hires New Executive Director
- BNN Schedule

Liz Walker Headlines at BPOA Listening and Learning Session

On Wednesday, May 3rd, the BPOA participated in SeniorPalooza, a month-long festival of elder-focused events held by Ethos as a way of commemorating Older Americans Month. Liz Walker, longtime television celebrity and newscaster in the Boston area graciously accepted the invitation to facilitate the event.

Read on...

BPOA and Mission Hill Main Streets Announce Boston's Elder Friendly Business Certification Program

Mission Hill Main Streets has been working with the Boston Partnership for Older Adults, the City's Elderly Commission and community institutions and organizations to make Mission Hill an Elder Friendly Business District.

Read on...

What Happens When Cops Become Film Makers, Teens Become Script Writers, and Elders Do the Acting?

~~~~~
The Got Respect Coalition represents a unique collaboration of the Boston Partnership for Older Adults, Boston Police Department's School and Video Units, Boston Public Schools, City of Boston's Elderly Commission, Juvenile Justice Center at Suffolk Law School, Kit Clark Senior Services, Mayor's Youth Council and the MBTA Transit Police Department which has created a campaign entitled, "Got Respect."

Read on...

BPOA Hires New Executive Director

~~~~~
The Board of Directors of the Boston Partnership for Older Adults conducted a search for a new Executive Director to replace outgoing founding Director, Brian Souza. The BPOA is very excited to announce that Emily Shea, MSW, MPH, joined the organization on August 14th.

Read on...

BNN Schedule

~~~~~
The BPOA's next show will introduce our new Executive Director, Emily Shea.

Full schedule...

Contact Information

~~~~~
email: info@bostonolderadults.org
phone: 617-426-5124
web: <http://www.bostonolderadults.org>
~~~~~